Game Description

Welcome to Space Race! Your spaceship has crash landed on a mysterious planet that you have never seen before. A bunch of the parts to the spaceship that you need to operate it and fly it back to earth have detached from the ship and scattered across the surface of the planet along with a bunch of your oxygen tanks! The aim of the game is to search for the missing parts to your spaceship (highlighted in green) and collect them so that you can repair your ship and return home. But make sure to watch out for your oxygen level because you can't breathe on this strange planet, so you have to collect the tanks (in blue) before you run out of air.

Uh oh! You ran out of oxygen!
